

To Whom it May Concern,

We are writing to you on behalf of the Australian Law Students' Association (ALSA) 2010 Conference Committee. Among their other activities, ALSA is responsible for organising an annual conference, at which law students from around the country and New Zealand gather to engage in forums on legal issues, attend social events, and to compete in national law competitions. In 2010, this prestigious event will be held in Adelaide from Monday 12 July to Sunday 18 July.

Each year the ALSA Conference attracts approximately 300 competitors, competing across seven competitions: ALSA Moot; Witness Examination; International Humanitarian Law Moot; Negotiation; Client Interview; Paper Presentation; and Kirby Cup. Please find below a brief summary of each of these competitions.

We are currently looking for judges, legal practitioners and legal academics to be involved in both question writing and judging for these competitions, and would greatly appreciate your assistance. Being involved in either of these capacities will give you the opportunity to liaise with the best and brightest law students from across Australia and New Zealand, and to market your firm to law students on a national and international level.

Across the entire week of conference we need as many volunteers as possible to judge competitions. All judges will be invited to attend a two-hour briefing session approximately one week prior to the Conference, and will be provided with a briefing pack relevant to the competition they are involved in. Each round of competition takes approximately two hours.

It would greatly assist us if you could take a few minutes to complete a brief survey outlining whether you are interested in assisting us. The survey will be closed on Monday 21 December 2009, and interested parties will be contacted either by email or phone in early 2010.

Thank you for your consideration of the above points. We would truly appreciate your contribution to this prestigious event. If you have any queries, please do not hesitate to contact either Daniel Fawcett or Samantha Kontra, our Competitions Directors, on the details below. Competition Rules and example questions are available upon request.

Kind regards
Daniel and Samantha
